

Q-rig - flat-pack theatre

Producing a complete theatrical environment, Q-rig is a demountable theatre kit solution with a combination of trussing framework, performance curtains to surround the stage and sound and light packages that quickly create a professional theatre space.

Basic framework around the stage.

Dressed framework, with rear and side curtains, front of house curtains, plus mounted lighting.

TRUSSING

The truss framework is composed of pre-formed aluminium tube sections with triangular crossbracing to create an easy to build, strong but lightweight rig structure around the stage.

The four framework legs stand by the side of the stage, supporting a long rig across the front, plus three smaller sections to the back and sides.

CURTAINS

The performance curtains, offered in a choice of colours, include side and rear curtains to enclose the stage*, pelmet, fixed side wing curtains and walk along front of house curtains.

Together with the stage, the curtains provide a complete theatrical setting, creating a backstage area behind the wings as well as offering provision for stage exits and entrances. The front of house curtains provide a screen between the performers and audience, plus their opening and closing signal the start and end of a scene or performance.

SOUND AND LIGHT

To perfect the set, Q-light and Q-sound kits can be added to offer professional light and sound to the theatre.

The sound and light kits can be freestanding on the stage, or the lanterns can be fitted to the Q-rig frame surround to enhance lighting, project sound and offer a completely professional environment.

Q-rig kits can be added to existing staging, bought in conjunction with stage kits such as Q-build or Multi-dek, or bespoke solutions can be created. The whole concept has been designed to simply and efficiently create a demountable performance area that can easily accommodate individual requirements, store away compactly and economically produce a professional production space.

* All drapes are Accolade curtain fabric, inside and rear drapes are black as standard.
